INFATUATED WOMAN SEEKS TO KILL MAN

Does Slay Caretaker, After Firing Several Shots at Sick Wife of Advertising Man as She Lay in Bed

STARTS FOR OFFICE

Police Guard Other Intended Victor, But Murderer Fails to Show Up, Despite Her Death Threat

Chicago, Apr. 24. — A 24-year-old woman lawyer, angered at the refusal of a man with whom she was infatuated to divorce his wife and marry her, today visited the man's home in Palos Park, a suburb, shot and killed a caretaker, fired several shots at the man's wife and then raced to Chicago in an automobile, accompanied by a man believed to be her hsuband from whom she was separated, to continue her man hunt.

Wanda Elaine Stopa, the girl, a near genius who came to this country a poor immigrant and in a few years graduated from a law school and who served for a time as an assistant United States district attorney, and Ted Glascow, who posed as her husband and whom she left a year ago, were being sough throughout the city tonight.

Fails to Seek Out Husband.

Y. Henley Smith, wealthy advertising man, with whom she was in love, was under guard while being questioned at the state attorney's office, to prevent an attempt by the woman on his life, and his wife, at whom the Stopa girl fired as Mrs. Smith lay ill in bed, was near a nervous collapse. Henry Manning, 55, caretaker of the estate, was the girl's victim.

Miss Stopa, as she preferred to be known, a blonde, scarcely five feet tall, appeared at the Smith home in Palos Park in a dilapidated automobile driven by a man believed to be Glascow, was admitted by Manning and, walking rapidly to Mrs. Smith's room, screamed, "I've come to kill you and your husband."

She fired three shots at Mrs. Smith then turned her pistol on Manning, who had rushed into the room. She shot him through the head, killing him instantly, and leaping through a window ran to her waiting automobile, declaring "now we are going to get him."

Detectives and policemen, notified of the slaying, rushed to Smith's office in a downtown building and hurried him to the state attorney's office under guard, detectives being left at the office to await the girl's coming. She did not appear.

SEEKS TO HAVE HOFFMAN CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE

New York, Apr. 24. — Characterizing the case against Harry Hoffman, motion picture operator charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude Bauer on a lonely Staten Island road a month ago, as "a chain of circumstantial evidence—plus," District Attorney Fach said tonight he would ask the grand jury tomorrow to return a definite indictment charging the prisoner with homicide.

Hoffman has been held for the past several days on a series of short affidavits. When the last of these was issued yesterday, Mr. Fach told the court he would ask no further delays before proceeding against the prisoner. This affidavit will expire tomorrow.

Mrs. Lillian Levine, Hoffman's first wife, who divorced him seven years ago, was a witness before the grand jury today. Officials said she had testified to a long list of cruelties to which she was subjected as Hoffman's wife.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE; POLICE INVESTIGATE CIRCUMSTANCES

Gloversville, Apr. 24.—An investigation of the death of Mrs. Bessie Richardson who died today of a self-inflicted bullet wound inflicted yesterday was begun late today by the district attorney here, after a report had been made by the coroner. The coroner's report, it was stated, indicated grounds for a criminal investigation. The authorities continued to hold Fred Harden, 52 years old, on a technical charge and indicated that another charge would be placed against him soon.

A coroner's autopsy revealed that Mrs. Richardson had been mutilated in a manner which calls for criminal investigation on the part of the district attorney, who this afternoon is seeking evidence to fix the crime upon Harden. Before dying she [illegible] of Harden was responsible [illegible] condition.

PERSHING WOULD NOT ACCEPT VICE PRESIDENCY NOMINAT'N

Washington, Apr. 24.—A flat statement that "if by any chance the nomination for the vice presidency should be offered to me, I should decline to accept it," was made today by General John J. Pershing.

"Any statement that has been made that I would be a candidate for Vice President has been made without my authority," said the general in a formal statement. "I am not a candidate and if by any chance the nomination should be offered to me I should decline to accept it."

Declares Wheeler Had Nothing to Do With Campbell Land Fight

Witness Whose Firm Handled Case Says Montana Senator Not Concerned in Matter—Another Man Tells of Conference in Which Wheeler Asked Merely for "Square Deal"

Washington, Apr. 24. — Two detailed stories bearing on the Montana charges against Senator Wheeler were heard today by the special senate committee appointed to investigate his indictment.

One of the witnesses, William G. Feely, a Washington lawyer, testified that the senator had "absolutely nothing" to do with the Campbell land cases which Feely's firm handled before the super interior department and in which Mr. Wheeler is charged with accepting a fee from Gordon Campbell, a Montana oil operator.

The other, William Spry, former governor of Utah and now commissioner of the general land office, told the committee that Wheeler had been brought to his office in 1923 by Solicitor Booth of the interior department; that the Campbell land permit had been mentioned in the conversation; but that the senator had only asked for a "square deal" for Campbell.

Chairman Borah indicated during the hearing that he hoped for a very early conclusion of the investigation, but the committee adjourned subject to call as the chairman pointed out that several witnesses from Montana had not yet arrived.

SAYS FUND RAISED TO PREVENT PROBE

Postal Inspector Testifies $100,000 Collected for Use in Alleged Land Fraud Cases

Washington, Apr. 24.—Charges that a $100,000 fund had been raised "to prevent thorough investigation" by the senate committee of alleged land frauds in Texas and a statement by Rush D. Simmons, chief inspector of the postoffice department, that the department's investigation of the alleged frauds "had not been completed" were the chief developments today in the inquiry.

Simmons declared in response to questions by James R. Paige, Kansas City, unoffical prosecutor, that "the Texas end of the investigation has not been completed."

No Water in 1921.

Charges of the existence of a fund to combat the inquiry were made in a telegram read by Paige which he said was received by Ivan A. White, secretary of the Hidalgo County Tax Payers' association of Weslaco, Tex. The message said information had come to the association that "certain interests working under cloak of Valley Chamber of Commerce has raised a $100,000 fund to prevent thorough investigation by your committee."

[illegible] Tex., inserted in the record statements from officials of irrigation companies in the lower Rio Grande valley claiming that adequate water facilities existed there. Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, author of the inquiry resolution, declared these statements did not show that the irrigation facilities were "there in 1921" when the alleged land frauds were perpetrated. Simmons, who was the only witness during the day, agreed with this contention.

BONUS BILL IN CONFERENCE; TO PRESIDENT NEXT WEEK

Washington, April 24. — The soldier bonus bill was formally ordered to conference by the house late today for adjustment of senate amendments with prediction by leaders of both houses of an early agreement and report of the measure to the President.

Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, sponsor of the bill in the senate, and Chairman Greene of the house ways and means committee, indicated they hoped the measure would be sent to the White House by early next week, if not on Saturday. The senate amendments were generally of a minor nature.

13 PASSENGERS HURT; 3 MAYBE FATALLY, IN WRECK

Chicago, Apr. 24. — Thirteen passengers were injured, three of them possibly fatally, and a number of others crushed tonight when a westbound Chicago, Aurora and Elgin electric train crashed into the rear of another train at Maywood, a suburb.

The first train, composed of a motor coach and two passenger cars, was stalled when a fuse blew out, when the second train crashed into it, partly wrecking two coaches, passengers on both trains were thrown into a panic and struggled to escape. Policemen and railroad employes quieted them and aided in taking the injured from the cars.

WILL TEST SANITY OF COONEY COUPLE

Husband of Bobbed Hair Bandit Son of Man Who Died in Insane Asylum

New York, Apr. 24. — County Judge Martin of Brooklyn announced today he would appoint a lunacy commission [illegible] S. Cooney, husband of Celia Cooney, the bobbed hair bandit, on information that Cooney's father died 15 years ago in an insane asylum.

The examination will delay pronouncing of sentence on the pair, who pleaded guilty to first degree robbery. It is possible that Mrs. Cooney may also be examined. Psychologists have unofficially reported her to be a "moron, bordering on feeble mindedness."

Her craving for detective and real life stories, County Judge Vause said, contributed to her criminal career. "To all appearances, she is a woman of low type, if not feeble minded," he added.

"I'll bet there'll be a mob there when we are sentenced," she told Warden Koeing. Then she danced a jig in her cell and a moment later wept loud and long.

REPUBLICANS CONFER OVER TEMPORARY CHAIRM'N CHOICE

Washington, Apr. 24. Selection of the temporary chairman of the Republican convention, who by virtue of his office will sound the keynote of the Republican campaign, was discussed without decision today by representatives of the Republican national committee and managers of the Coolidge campaign.

The type of man desired was pretty well determined, but no actual selection was made. The choice will be decided by the qualifications of loyalty to the party principles, ability as a speaker, standing with the various elements of the party, and by geographical considerations.

The national committee's subcommittee on arrangements for the convention [illegible] Wednesday to decide who shall be recommended to the convention as temporary chairman and inasmuch as party leaders without exception expect President Coolidge to be selected as the standard bearer, it was deemed advisable to obtain his views on the chairmanship.

COUNTRY CHILD BETTER OFF THAN CITY LAD, SAYS HOOVER

New York, Apr. 24.—In spite of physicians and organized city health measures, the country child still has an advantage over one who is brought up in a city, Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover said today.

"As a people we have not yet accustomed ourselves to living in cities," Mr. Hoover asserted. "Our heritage is that of an agricultural people and we have yet to adapt ourselves completely to city life."

Mr. Hoover was in New York as president of the American Child Health association to urge that every citizen cooperate in making a great demonstration for child health and [illegible] on May 1.

TAX CUT PLAN BEFORE SENATE

But Few Members Listen to Opening Shots Which Deal Chiefly With Mellon Rates

Washington, Apr. 24. — Opening shots were fired today in the senate in the tax reduction fight with the Mellon income tax rates being given the most attention.

The intention of Republican organization leaders to stand by the treasury schedule was indicated in the opening speech by Chairman Smoot of the finance committee who vigorously defended the rates.

Senator Jones, New Mexico, a Democratic member of the committee, retaliated with a denunciation of the proposed 50 per cent cut in the maximum surtax and a plea for a greater tax reduction even than proposed by the treasury.

Senators Won't Listen.

The revenue bill over which the most extended and controversial legislative fight of the session is anticipated, was brought up under inauspicious circumstances. Despite the enthusiastic declarations of the two speakers, less than a score of senators were on the floor throughout their addresses. Twice a point of no quorum was made to draw an audience but shortly after the roll calls most of the senators, tired by the long debate of yesterday on the bonus bill, had retired.

Chairman Smoot called for a meeting of the senate one hour earlier than usual tomorrow and announced reading of the bill for amendments would be started immediately. This could be deferred, however, for speeches. Consideration of controversial amendments will in any event be side-tracked for later disposition, Mr. Smoot said, and this is expected to delay for more than a week a showdown on the income tax schedule.

"ONION KING" NOW FACES BANKRUPTCY

A. C. Martin of Syracuse Said to Have Over Bought on Rosenblum's Order

New York, Apr. 24. — Abraham Rosenblum, known as the "Brooklyn onion king," who was accused of having cornered the onion market during the war, faces bankruptcy because of [illegible] dispose of $250,000 worth of the vegetable, it was learned tonight.

Suits are being prepared against him by 28 firms and three banks. Through his attorneys Rosenblum announced tonight he would pay 100 cents on the dollar.

Produce men said Rosenblum entered into an agrement with A. C. Martin, Syracuse "onion king," to purchase for him $100,000 worth of onions from upstate farmers. Martin, however, was said to have exceeded instructions and plunged heavily, storing the produce in Syracuse warehouses and borrowing $2 a sack on the purchase. A storehouse charge of 55 cents a bag accumulated, and it was said that the onions now could be sold only for 85 cents a sack, bringing a $1.70 loss.

Several Marines of U. S. Army Killed in Fighting in Honduran Revolution

Had Been Landed Some Time Ago to Protect American Citizens and Consulate — Additional Reinforcements Slip Through Rebel Lines and Enter Tegucigalpa

(By the Associated Press)

San Salvadore, April 24. — Several American marines have been killed in Honduras, according to advices received here.

An attache of the American legation in Tegucigalpa is said to have proceeded to LaLibertad, Salvadore, naval station, in order to communicate with the government in Washington.

American marines were landed some time ago and sent to Tegucigalpa to protect the American consulate and American citizens. Recently, the rebels in Honduras have been besieging Tegucigalpa and on Wednesday dispatches from San Salvadore reported that rebel airplanes had dropped bombs on the capital.

A dispatch from Amapala says that additional reinforcements for the provisional government forces, who are besieged in Tegucigalpa, have managed to slip through the revolutionary lines and enter the capital.

Other dispatches are to the effect that none of the political parties in Honduras care to shoulder the responsibility of intervening with Sumner Welles, representing the American government, in an endeavor to bring about peace between the discordant factions.

FOUR OF BALLOONS CONTINUE FLIGHT

Should Be Over Great Lakes Region by Morning — If Still Aloft, New Record Likely

(By the Associated Press.)

Kansas City, Apr. 24.—Four of the seven balloons which took the air late Wednesday at Kelley field, San Antonio, Tex., in the National Balloon Elimination race, were still up early tonight tracing their way through unchartered and, in some cases, stormy paths toward the uncertain goal of the contest.

As darkness came on the second day of the race, the four remaining contestants, approximately 1,000 miles from the starting point, were drifting rapidly northeastward with prospects of a bad night ahead.

Should the pilots ride out rainstorms, predicted for tonight in their path in the central west, they would show up tomorrow morning in the Great Lakes region.

If they are still in the air when day breaks they are almost certain to smash the American distance record.

Another hazard, according to weather officials, is that the bags may be calmed during the night and forced down by drifting into an area of low pressure which is moving eastward from over Nebraska.

Independence, Kan., Apr. 24—Army balloon No. 2, piloted by Captain E. W. Hill and Lieutenant J. P. Powell landed safely at Moline, Kan., 20 miles west of here, at 6:30 o'clock this morning as the result of an electrical storm.

ROCK ISLAND ENGINE USES MILK AS FUEL

Chicago, Apr. 24. — Burning milk as the sole fuel a locomotive of the Rock Island railroad made a two-hour trip today drawing five cars with 500 passengers. The milk-fed train went [illegible] and back, while 150 children passengers from the Chicago Home for Friendless Children and the Chicago Orphan asylum pressed their faces against the car windows and cheered.

Health Commissioner Herbert M. Bundeson gave the party, the purpose of which was to dramatize the fact that milk, which can be used as fuel for an engine, is also fuel for the human body, containing energy which the body gets from it much as the locomotive does.

Damaged powdered milk was thickened with water and broken into lumps for the fuel.

INDUSTRIAL, SOCIAL AND CIVIC TREND IS FORWARD

New York, Apr. 24. — The general trend of industrial, social and civic changes in the United States during the last few decades has been forward, not backward, as "apostles of gloom" contend, John Hays Hammond reported today at the annual meeting of the National Civic federation's department on current economic and political movements.

Among the "black spots" in the nation's development, the report cited the "divorce evil," encouraging wholesale breaking up of homes; the recent exposures of "moral turpitude of a few government officials" and the lack of trained teachers despite the existence of 6,000,000 illiterates in the country.

RECORDS OF MEANS LOST, HE REPORTS

Says Two Men Bearing Letter Purporting to Be From Chairman Brookhart Took Them From His Home

BRANDED FORGERY

Senator Declares Signature Easily Detected as False—Stolen Data Not Essential to Outcome

Washington, Apr. 24. — The treasured records of five years of spy work, the board of Gaston B. Means, international sleuth and star witness for the senate Daugherty investigation commitee, have vanished dreamlike between two days.

At least Means so reported today to the committee. A hasty investigation established only the fact that if two men bearing a letter signed with the name of Chairman Brookhart took the records from Means' Washington home, as he reported, they were not authorized to do so, and their letter of credentials was a forgery.

Senators on the committee were in plainly puzzled waiting tonight. They may have a session tomorrow to study the problem.

For weeks now, the Means records, which consist of scores of black bound notebooks, his day-by-day diaries of his extraordinary activities, have been held back from full disclosure. Tantilizing glimpses into them have been offered at frequent intervals in the kaleidoscopic shifting of the Daugherty investigation, but no complete tale of their contents has been rounded out.

Contain Many Important Secrets.

It was to these records Means turned when asked to fix the times and totals of payments he took as "money carrier" for Jess Smith. Again, they were said to contain detailed data of how Means was assigned to ferret out the secrets of the central bootlegging machinery in New York and "get" Secretary Mellon. From topic to topic, as the skipping examinations of the committee proceedings, he [illegible] and has said always "the records" would confirm and extend his testimony.

One or two days the records themselves, spilling out from two bulky containers, lay in the committee rooms while its inquiry was on. Among the diary leaves were thrust the photostatic copies of letters and documents which —Means said— he had stolen, bought, or maneuvered from their original depository.

There was hardly a baleful secret in all the country, he intimated darkly, but had its key hidden in the "records of Means,"—once German intelligence agent, later Burns' detective, and special agent of the department of justice, and finally some sort of attache of the intelligence section of prohibition enforcement.

Lost Three Weeks Ago.

Means' story to the astonished committee members today was as simple as it was doleful. To him more than three weeks ago came two men, purporting to be assistant sergeants-at-arms of the senate, armed with a letter which appeared to come from Chairman Brookhart, ordering the papers into the committee's possession. Trusting fully to their automobile truck did Means consign his records, he knew no more about it.

Senator Brookhart said he had written no such letter. Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor, after examining the missive, pronounced the signature a "palpable forgery" easily detected. They both indicated, however, that the records were not absolutely necessary to the investigation; that the committee could proceed without them, and would do so. For the moment chief attention has been centered upon the preparation of a resolution citing M[illegible] attorney general, for contempt, which is likely to be put into the senate tomorrow.

ENGINEER HAS HARROWING TRIP HANGING FROM ENGINE

Syracuse, Apr. 24.—Suffering from burns by steam and gashes and cuts, Charles Sammons, engineer of the New York Central, was sufficiently recovered today to make a report on his harrowing experience of 24 hours earlier. Driven from his cab by live steam from a broken check pipe, Sammons, between Syracuse and Albany, fell out of the cab. His overalls caught on a projecting iron and he was dragged half a mile.

From the ground, Sammons shouted directions to his trainman and fireman, who stopped the runaway locomotive.

REAL ESTATE TAX REDUCED

Albany, Apr. 24. — Complete victory for the state administration tax reduction program, announced at the beginning of the recent session of the legislature, was attained today when Governor Smith signed the bill which would cut 25 per cent from the direct tax imposed on real estate. Earlier in the year the governor approved legislation recommended by him to bring about a similar reduction in state taxes levied on personal incomes. The total savings which these reductions are estimated to cause taxpayers of the state is announced at approximately $10,000,000.

The Penn and Drake Relays By Feg Murray

THE RELAYS
WILL OUR NAMES GO DOWN IN HISTORY FOR WHAT WE REALLY DID, OR FOR THE ANNUAL PENN AND DRAKE RELAY CARNIVALS?
SAID THE SHADE OF WILLIAM PENN TO THE SHADE OF FRANCIS DRAKE

Today marks the start of the University of Pennsylvania and the Drake relay carnivals. The greatest runners in college circles all over the country will take part in one event or the other.

Charlie Paddock, West Coast sprinting demon, shows his stuff at Drake. Liddell of Oxford and Cambridge team will be one of the star performers at Penn. It is safe to predict that many marks will go by the board today, and that a definite line on many Olympic candidates will be had.

No, neither William Penn nor Sir Francis Drake, whose pictures appear, ever competed in the respective relay carnivals.

FIRPO CHANGES HIS MIND

Announces His Willingness to Meet Romero, Chilean Heavyweight, in United States.

(By the Associated Press)

Buenos Aires, Apr. 24.—Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight champion, who recently declared his intention to retire from the ring, announced today that he was willing to go to the United States and fight Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, provided Romero fought no other boxer previously to their meeting.

Firpo made his announcement after dining with friends last night, informing Juan Homs, representative of Tex Rickard, who said he was cabling Rickard to make efforts to call off Romero's match with Floyd Johnson on May 9 and substitute for it a Firpo-Romero bout at a later date.

This reversal of Firpo's much reiterated retirement decision is due, he asserts, solely to resentment at reported declarations by Romero that Firpo feared him, together with statements of a similar tenure published in the Chilean newspapers.

Homs said that if a match with Romero could be arranged, he had little doubt that Firpo would be willing to sign up afterward to meet Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey.

"I might do so," Firpo admitted, but he added that he would make no commitments until after a fight with Romero was assured.

"Romero claims I am afraid of him," said Firpo to the correspondent in confirming his new decision. "The Chilean papers say I am afraid of him. I can't stand that. I will go to the United States and fight Romero providing he fight nobody else in the meantime.

PAIRED WITH WIENER

Tilden May Lose Share of Tennis Double Title.

Brookline, Mass., Apr. 24. — Lawn tennis followers look upon the present announcement of William T. Tilden, 2nd, that he will pair with Alexander L. Wiener, his youthful protege, in the national doubles championship at the Longwood Cricket club this summer, as an indication that he is willing to hazard his chances of retaining his share of the title.

After winning the championship three times with Vincent Richards, Tilden entered the 1923 championship event with Wiener but at the last minute switched to B. I. C. Norton, the South African star. The new team captured the title.

While Tilden has said he believes that Wiener has improved sufficiently to be capable of giving real help in the national doubles, many tennis sharps are skeptical. Tilden and Wiener made their first appearance as partners in a national event in the national clay court doubles at Indianapolis last July. They were eliminated in the semifinal round by the Kinsey brothers, Robert and Howard, of San Francisco, in straight sets, and observers said that Tilden was forced to do most of the work.

Teacher Hikes 18 Miles Daily.

Malone, April 24. — Miss Flos Sweet, rural school teacher living in the northern section of Franklin county, has hiked more than three thousand miles in going from her home to school and return each school day since the opening session last autumn.

It is just seven miles from her home to the little cross roads school in the town of Westville. On many days during the winter Miss Sweet fought a bitter wind and deep snow. Often the mercury was far below zero. Not once, however, did she miss reaching school, arriving on time each day. On days when even a horse could not travel the road, she used snowshoes.

The young teacher is the picture of health and hikes fourteen miles a day because she likes it.

Held On Assault Charge.

Norwich, April 24.—Edward Constable, Bainbridge farmer, 70, has been held for grand jury action on charges of assault. Bail was fixed at $500. Constable is alleged to have struck Frank Walker over the head with a pitchfork, inflicting a serious scalp wound. Constable claims he did it in self-defense.

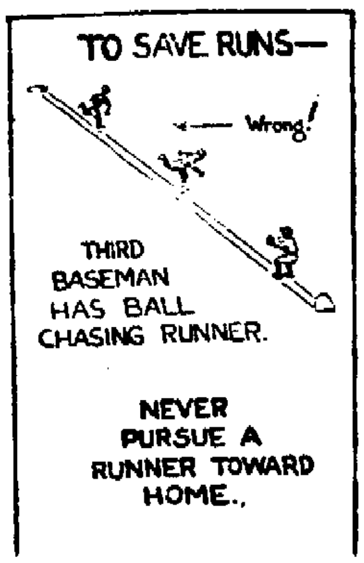
Baseball AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT



TO SAVE RUNS—
Wrong!
THIRD BASEMAN HAS BALL CHASING RUNNER.
NEVER PURSUE A RUNNER TOWARD HOME.

What general hints do you consider most valuable for third basemen?

Answered by
HEINE GROH

Third baseman, New York Giants; user of the "Bottle Bat," and slugged out a .474 average with it during the 1922 World's Series.

There are so many things that a third baseman must do, and do well, that it seems an almost impossible job to master them. It is an impossible job unless a player is willing to do two things: 1. Practice constantly. 2. Like the position better than any other baseball position.

Some of the things for a third baseman to keep in mind are: 1. Never, pursue the base-runner toward home. 2. Get the underhand peg under skillful control. 3. Worry a base-runner when he is on your base. 4. Don't let him worry you. 5. Keep full of pep during the game. 6. Don't be afraid to take any sort of a fielding chance when necessary.

Merchant Financial Wreck

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At druggists everywhere. advt

Not the Same
Girl He Married

THE first sign a husband gets that his wife is not the same girl he married, is when she neglects her personal appearance.

Why are some housewives careless about such an important asset to good appearance as their hands? Is it indifference or lack of knowledge? Sometimes it is both.

These careless housewives use a common household soap which irritates the skin and reddens and coarsens the hands when they should be as careful about buying their household soap as they are about choosing good toilet soap.

• • • •

INTELLIGENT, careful housewives, who realize this, always insist upon Kirkman's Soap. They know that Kirkman's is as harmless to the hands as is the most exquisite toilet soap.

It is free from lye to irritate the skin or injure the most delicate fabrics, and it is made of the purest and finest materials, and is a most thorough cleanser.

For the sake of your hands insist upon Kirkman's Soap.

ON CANADARAGO LAKE

Death of William Southworth, Aged Business Man, Former Postmaster and Civil War Veteran.

Schuyler Lake, Apr. 24. — William Southworth, a well known business man and one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of the village, passed away at his home in this village Wednesday at 12 o'clock because of heart trouble and infirmities of old age.

He was born in Otsego county, August 21, 1839, and was a son of Reuben and Jane (Turnbull) Southworth, and his whole life had been spent in this vicinity. He was twice married, his first wife being Harriet Norton to whom he was married on December 14 1865, and who died in 1890. On October 4, 1893, he was united in marriage to Nellie Thompson of Exeter, who has tenderly cared for him during his last illness. He had been in poor health for several years.

UNCLEAN HANDS

It will be recalled that some time ago, when Russia was asking full recognition for the Soviet government from the United States, Secretary Hughes took the position that nothing, to use the vernacular, "would be doing," unless the former white empire came into the conference with clean hands. Moreover, he stipulated recognition of debt as an essential. To this Russia would not assent, and there was no little criticism of the American attitude on the part of leaders in England. Time, however, has been adequate justification, even in England, where the Labor administration at least felt kindly toward the Soviets. First step, however, of the Russian representatives on reaching London was a demand that the slate should be wiped clean, that England should not insist on payment of balances and that negotiations should be as between nations owing one another nothing. Such a proposition even Premier Macdonald, labor representative though he be, could not accept, and there was a deadlock not likely to be broken. The Russian attitude is that of a nation owing much but which demands that all shall to her be forgiven.

So in Germany there are many who believe that if she sets up the machinery to make the Dawes plan productive, normal treaty relations will automatically be resumed. This is true enough, but apparently she now believes that the expert agreement has released her from treaty obligations and has modified allied control in the Rhineland or in the Ruhr. In fact, from the day when the conference at Versailles came to an end Germany has been considering not how she could pay the debt to settlement of which by the treaty she was obligated, but how she could get out of such payment. Every conference, and even this last one, comes to just this in the end—an apparently pacified Germany with good intent until comes something more than mere promise to pay, and then quibblings, whinings and protestations of inability, the latter of which the recent commission has definitely proved to be false. Germany can pay if she will, and it is up to the allied powers to get behind the new plan to compel her to do so.

WHAT ONE READS COUNTS.

Because a man has the reputation of being "well read" does not mean that he reads omnivorously. Franklin is often pictured as a man who read everything he could acquire, even taking time from his work to read. But in Franklin's day literature had not been commercialized to the extent to which it is today and only the very best thought on any subject ever found its way into type.

It is worse than a waste of time to read much of the diatribe that is today printed for the dollars a gullible public will pay for it. It not only serves no worthy purpose but inculcates a perverted viewpoint of the fundamental facts of life itself. The number of things which it is desirable to read is so large and the average person's leisure so limited that much discrimination should be exercised in the selection of reading matter.

There is such a thing, also, as excessive reading of books to which no objection can be raised. It may cause mental indigestion. In some persons it is not conducive to original thinking, since they get in the habit of depending on the things which they find in print instead of working out problems for themselves.

It is best to choose reading matter carefully and deliberately, and to read carefully and with full understanding. The quality of what is perused is what counts, not the quantity.

HAPPY FRATERNITY EVENT

Large Attendance Wednesday Night at Eastern Star Lodge Rooms in Morris.

Morris, Apr. 24. — (Special) One of the happiest events of the year in the fraternal circles of this village was the official visit of Mrs. Lillian E. D. Merching, district deputy grand matron, and Claude M. Coy, assistant grand lecturer, to Jewel chapter, No. 306, Order of the Eastern Star, last evening. The grand officers were welcomed by the worthy matron, Mrs. Southern and both gave inspiring and instructive addresses.

Other grand officers present were: Mrs. Alta L. Jackson of Martha Chapter, Oneonta, and Mrs. Evelyn Stearns of Unadilla chapter, Miss Annetta McLaury, worthy matron, and E. W. Spencer, worthy patron of Martha chapter, and Mrs. Kenneth Hull, worthy matron of Unadilla chapter, also a number of past matrons and past patrons were received with ceremony. Visitors from eight neighboring chapters were present.

The officers of the chapter conferred the initiatory degree on a class of lady and gentleman candidates and the precision and accuracy of the work won the commendation of all.

As evidence of the esteem in which they are held, Mrs. Merching and Mr. Coy were presented with boxes of beautiful handkerchiefs, the presentations being made by Mrs. H. H. Lunn, associate matron, and Mrs. Carey, a past matron, with appropriate expressions of loyalty and admiration. The recipients feelingly responded with words of appreciation of the regard which had prompted the presentations.

A delicious banquet was afterward served in the dining hall and the reputation of hospitality enjoyed by Jewel Chapter was strengthened. One of the candidates of the evening, Rev. E. E. [illegible], gave a very delightful talk on his first impression of the beauties of the teachings of [illegible].

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

One They Overlooked.

A commentator calls attention to an interesting parallel, which Senator Glass may have overlooked when he called Mr. Coolidge's action unprecedented. In notifying the senate that he could not allow it to encroach upon the constitutional rights of the executive. The President quoted President Cleveland, a Democrat. In reply to Mr. Coolidge, Senator Walsh, a Democrat, triumphantly cited the opinion of Senator Edmunds, a Republican, in his fight to make Cleveland submit confidential papers. Senator Walsh seems to have forgotten that Edmunds lost his fight, and that [illegible] his firm stand against unwarranted senatorial interference. — Lancaster New Era.

The People Approve.

What has been done under Republican control of government meets with the approval of the people. There have been many attempts to befog the issues by bringing on an orgy of scandal mongering in which a small degree of personal wrong-doing has been revealed. But the substantial performances of the Republican administration and congress stand out above the clouds, pointing the moral that confidence in the party is merited.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Suburbs For Homes.

The suburbs are the solution of the problem, as every thoughtful father or mother of a family of children must agree. But refuge cannot be found in the suburbs unless and until there is adequate street car transportation. The utmost development of street car facilities is the best hope of every big city in America. Without it, most city children are like children in jail.—Pittsburgh Press.

Where the Indian Loses.

There is more complaint about the immoral Indian dances. Poor Lo. If only he would learn the ways of civilization and hire a professor and his jazz band. They cover a multitude of sins which the tom toms of the aborigine fail to conceal.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Society of Playgoers.

Americans have never lacked inclination to form and join societies of all kinds but have seldom done so on so slender and widely diffused a ground of common interest as has been utilized for the formation of a Gilbert and Sullivan society in England. It is a cheerful and democratic idea, which has met with spontaneous response. The public of Gilbert and Sullivan lovers is said to number 3,000,000—a really substantial percentage of the population of the entire nation. Obviously this vast interest could have been maintained only in one way—by the continued performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas by competent theatrical organizations.—Springfield Republican.

President and Congress.

The United States has a President to be proud of. But congress suggests, by its conduct and its misconduct, the inmates of an institution for defective children "playing" congress and making themselves ridiculous in their game.—New York World.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

A LESSON FROM THE DOG.

In a former article I spoke about a chap, sixty years of age, who had made himself younger by watching his dog.

When the dog was tired he lay down completely relaxed. After he had rested, he stretched himself and was ready for play again.

This chap was doing the same thing when he rested. Sometimes throughout the day he lay as if completely exhausted. When he arose, he stretched himself to his full height, raised his arms full above his head, and then reached over and attempted to touch the floor with his hands, keeping his knees straight.

I've often thought that we could learn another lesson from the dog, the cat, or almost any animal.

That is when we are feeling a bit sluggish, a little bit sick, as it were, that we follow the example of the animal.

What does it do?

Abstains absolutely from all food, sometimes for days. It will drink a little water, and perhaps eat some green grass, but it takes no food. It would seem that its instinct teaches it more than our brain teaches us.

You have figured out that as food is necessary to sustain life, and give you strength for muscular movements, therefore to sustain yourself you should eat something.

This seems reasonable enough in a sense, and yet it is the wrong thing to do. Most of your ailments start with the mouth and the digestive apparatus. The body is clogged, the intestine is upset, the blood is carrying an overload of impurities.

In other words, you have eaten food and made blood, but you haven't exercised to use up the impurities.

The impurities must get out of the system, and so your heart starts to beat faster and stronger to hurry things along.

By abstaining from food, the digestive apparatus is given a rest, no extra waste matter is manufactured, and in a couple of days, the heart begins to slow down again, as it has been able to get rid of most of the excess wastes.

Now this advice of abstaining from food when you are feeling heavy or miserable should not be followed for more than from one to three days as a rule. The idea of fasting is all right if you have a physician watching your heart and your general condition. But to abstain from food too long means not only the ridding of the blood of waste matter, but also of too much of the richness, the hemoglobin of the blood itself. You may thus so weaken your body that if there is any serious illness attacking you that you will not have sufficient strength to fight it.

THE GUIDE POST—BY HENRY VANDYKE

The Divine Nature Is Self-Limited

It is impossible for God to lie.—Heb. 6:18.

Let us try to get it very clearly and solidly into our minds that there are some things that God cannot do.

We fall very often into a false and foolish way of reasoning about the divine attributes, which comes from trusting a finite logic to deal with infinite quantities.

We argue that because God is infinite and absolute there must be nothing that He does not know and nothing that He can not do.

From the mere statement of a proposition, therefore, it would follow that God knows it, and from the mere conception of an action it would follow that He can do it.

But the same logic would lead us inevitably to the conclusion that there is nothing that God is not.

If He is absolutely without bounds or limits of any kind, then He is light and darkness, He is good and evil, He is the sinner and the saint.

But the Bible reveals that God is, and that He is a real and personal being, and that He has a moral character, fixed, immutable and supreme.

If it seems to us difficult or impossible to make that revelation square with our metaphysics, I for one am always ready to break with metaphysics, and stand by the Bible, and trust God as He makes himself known to my moral nature in these Scriptures and, above all, in the person and life of Jesus Christ.

And here the character is the first thing, the great thing, the dominant thing.

"He is called omnipotent," says St. Augustine, "in doing what He wills, not in suffering what He does not will. For if that happened to Him He would not be omnipotent. Wherefore He cannot do certain things because He is omnipotent."

Because the truth of God is perfect and supreme in all His ways, therefore He cannot lie.

Hair Like Mine
Has come to thousands in this easy way—By Edna Wallace Hopper

I found in France, many years ago, the greatest hair help science has discovered. My mother used it, and at [illegible] she had hair like mine today.

I have used it. My hair is the marvel of millions. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. And now, at a grandmother's age, it is hair that most girls envy.

I have supplied this help to countless friends and it brought them like results. So I am convinced that it means to millions such hair as cannot come without it. And I am going to help those millions get it.

What experts say

This formula, perfected by French experts, is based on lifetimes of hair study. They gave me these reasons for its amazing results.

It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. They check the hair growth and destroy the hair. They choke the pigment which gives color to the hair.

Thus it cleans the scalp, then it stimulates and fertilizes. Hair thrives under these conditions, just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

It cannot harm the hair. It does not affect hair color, natural or artificial. It deals only with the scalp—the soil of the hair. And all the results come through reviving the roots.

Quick and easy

I call this formula my Hair Youth. I apply it with an eye dropper directly to the scalp. This takes but a minute a day, and it does not muss the hair.

One feels at once its cleansing stimulating action. And my own hair shows what it does for hair health and hair beauty.

Every dealer sells my Hair Youth under guarantee. If one bottle fails to delight you, he will return your money. I want every woman, without a penny of risk, to learn what my Hair Youth does.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price 50c and $1 with eye dropper.

Also my Youth Cream, based on fruits. Also my Facial Youth — my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay — the last word in facial clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Try my Hair Youth at my risk. Do it now. The results are too fine to miss. Then I think you will want the other helps which did so much for me. And all of them are now at your command. Edna Wallace Hopper, [illegible] Lake Shore Drive, Chicago. advt.

DISCUSS EDGAR ALLEN POE

Mrs. George W. Augustin Speaks Interestingly of Life and Work of Great American Poet.

A highly interesting discussion of the life and work of Edgar Allan Poe was given by Mrs. George W. Augustin at the last afternoon tea of the season held yesterday at the Woman's club. The effect of Poe's environment upon his prose and poetry was particularly emphasized.

Mrs. George W. Augustin told about Poe's early life, and how his mother was an actress from whom he doubtless derived much of his temperament and consequent ability to create things that were original. She told how after the death of his mother, Poe was adopted by John Allan of Richmond and how his having too much money to spend resulted in too great indulgence and over development of temperament. She told of his brief career at West Point, where he was considered much too erratic and of the honors which he obtained at the University of Virginia.

Later he joined the army and subsequently chose literature for his career. From his adoption by and association with one of the first families of Virginia he obtained a good standing in spite of his poverty, although he was not always well thought of during the early part of his literary career as he was somewhat of a parasite. She said that the most that Poe ever earned in a single year was about $800 as he depended entirely upon his writings. She discussed the various phases of Poe's character and his rhythmic, perfect form in writing his poems. The morbid stories and subjects about which Poe wrote were in vogue at that time so that his morbidity was partly accounted for by the style of the time in which he lived.

Mrs. Arthur Cutler read "The Raven" by Poe in a very appreciative manner after which there was a short general discussion of "The Raven" and of Poe's works by some of the members present.

The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. Thomas Lord, Mrs. L. W. Seegar and Mrs. Horace Kerr.

EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENTS

Mrs. Clark Training Three Groups of Girls for Programs at St. Mary's Benefit Bazaar Next Week.

Mrs. Louise Hanlon Clark, who is in charge of the entertainment features of the bazaar which is to be held next week by St. Mary's parish in the new parochial school building, is preparing three groups of girls for specialty acts which will be presented each evening along with a number of solo acts which she is also preparing. The program of the suppers which are to be held each evening during the bazaar, the list of vicinity church which are to send delegations of entertainers to the bazaar, the many articles which have been contributed by members of the parish of the church and by the merchants of the city, and the fact that Mrs. Clark, who is a graduate of the Greeley College of Dramatic Art, Boston, is in charge of the Oneonta talent presentations, certainly promise a benefit bazaar the like of which has never before been seen in Oneonta.

Included in the features which Mrs. Clark is preparing is a floor committee of eighteen girls who will wear costumes of Ireland, France and Spain on the various nights of the benefit, giving to the large hall at the building an atmosphere both pleasing and beautiful.

Another group of twelve girls have been working earnestly on a tambourine drill which will probably be presented on two evenings. The plan is original with Mrs. Clark, who has had the direction of the productions of the Shakespearean class of the Woman's club for the past winter, and one which promises to be a distinct hit.

Still another group of Normal school students will present a novelty tennis drill, arranged by Mrs. Clark, attired in the latest sport clothes, a fashion feature that will doubtless be much appreciated in Oneonta where sports clothing is much in vogue.

Rev. Father John Murphy returned yesterday from a trip upon which he visited the various churches that are to send entertainment delegations to the bazaar, and he promises that very worth while acts are going to be presented.

The decoration of the auditorium of the school is progressing very favorably and before Monday evening it is certain that a remarkable effect will have been attained there. Especially attractive booths are being erected, in which will be displayed and sold fancy articles, staple merchandise, silver, aprons, dolls, ice cream, and candy.

No admission is to be charged, and it is expected that a large number of residents of this vicinity will take advantage of the opportunity offered in the bazaar of inspecting the new school, for which the bazaar is a benefit.

ONEONTA IN THE AIR

Vincent Lopez, Broadcasting From New York, Thanks Local People for Reception Accorded Him in City Wednesday Evening.

"The remainder of the program will be by Vincent Lopez and His Hotel Pennsylvania orchestra, broadcasting from the Hotel Pennsylvania grill room, Vincent Lopez himself speaking. I desire to take this opportunity to extend to our many friends in Albany and Oneonta our gratitude for the very cordial reception accorded us during our brief engagements in those cities."

Thousands of radio fans throughout the country heard last evening, probably for the first time, the name "Oneonta" and local enthusiasts were immeasurably thrilled when Vincent Lopez, who furnished the music for the American legion dance at the armory Wednesday evening, made the foregoing announcement at precisely 11 o'clock last evening from the WEAF broadcasting station in the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York city.

The announcement, repeated at the intermission, preceded a concert by the same orchestra that so well pleased the hundreds at the legion dance. Static conditions were bad last evening but the music was none the less enjoyed by the listeners, local people doubtless appreciating it the more because of the local interest now attached to the famous dance band.

At one point in the program Lopez announced that the next selection would be "Ragging the Scale," at the request of our Oneonta friends. This piece, with Lopez himself playing the piano lead with consummate skill, was especially enjoyed by those at the dance.

All the money is not yet in but it is certain that Oneonta post made a profit on its venture, the biggest of its kind ever undertaken in the city. The legion considered, when it decided to secure the orchestra, that, considering the heavy expense for music, advertising, etc., the dance would be a success if expenses were met. That there is to be a profit makes the venture in the nature of a triumph.

THE CITY AND THE TOWN

Most Enjoyable Talk Given by Prof. Frank G. Sanford at Rotary Club Luncheon.

A discussion of the relative advantages of life in the town and life in the city that left the town a winner by a wide margin was given by Prof. Frank G. Sanford of Ridgewood, N. J., formerly manual training instructor at the Oneonta State Normal school, at the luncheon of Oneonta Rotary club yesterday noon. The talk, which contained numerous references to the advantages of Oneonta above other towns, was keenly enjoyed by every Rotarian.

Mr. Sanford prefaced his remarks with a reference to his pleasure at being back in Oneonta among the friends whom he had known for many years. He said that the environment of the city held great inspiration for him. The Biblical phrase, "Lift up thine eyes unto the hills whence thy strength cometh," meant much to him, he said, whenever he stood upon one of the numerous vantage points and gazed upon the hills surrounding Oneonta, each hill with its own personality, so to speak. These hills must of necessity be a factor in the lives of those who live among them, he declared.

In his direct discussion of the relative merits of town and city Mr. Sanford said that the big city tends to wipe out the individual characteristics of its inhabitants and to make them conform to the prevailing mode, whether of dress, speech, thought or action. The danger of modern life is this habit of conformity, he said, and our institutions are in danger unless citizens cease governing their actions by precedent instead of by intelligence. That individual thinking is the panacea for many of our troubles was his opinion.

Mr. Sanford said that in his opinion one of the greatest functions of organizations like the Rotary club was to encourage individuality. In a small community like Oneonta there is a splendid chance for individual growth and Rotary should encourage it to the utmost.

Frank M. Gurney, newly elected president, presided for the first time yesterday, pledging his utmost endeavor for the good of the club in his introductory remarks. He announced his committee assignments for the coming year and also the election of Edwin R. Moore as treasurer of the club to succeed Herbert C. Getman, resigned.

The announcement was made that Cobleskill Rotary club will be presented with its charter on the evening of May 12, and a committee on arrangements, to cooperate with Arthur Seybolt, sponsor for the infant club, was appointed. A communication from Captain Louis M. Baker of Company G asking for cooperation on the part of the club in an endeavor to have Oneontans become interested in the company was read and referred to the board of directors for appropriate action.

Considerable entertainment was afforded by the rendition by the "Village Choir' of a touching ballad, the work of G. E. Tupper, concerning the troubles of "Ben" Stebbins with a certain piece of gauze. Guests at the luncheon, in addition to the speaker, were Hon. David F. Wilber and Ernest W. Bolton, both of Oneonta.

"Y" BOYS' WORK SECRETARY

Clarence L. Holmes, Former Episcopal Rector, Secured by Local Association—Assumes Duties May 1.

Clarence L. Holmes of Harve de Grace, Maryland, has been secured as Boys' work secretary at the local Y. M. C. A., and he is expected to arrive in Oneonta and to assume his new duties about May 1. A. his services will also be available to the other organizations of the city, and it is hoped that he will be able to perform a real good among all of the boys of the city.

Mr. Holmes has been pastor of the Reformed Episcopal church at Harve de Grace, but has for some time desired to engage in boys' work. Following a conference with the directors of the Y. M. C. A. some time ago, Mr. Holmes presented his resignation to the church and it was reluctantly accepted.

Mr. Holmes will not move his family here immediately, waiting until he has become settled in Oneonta, and until suitable quarters are available.

OBITUARY

Reid Fagan

The funeral services for the late Reid Fagan, brief notice of whose death appeared in The Star of yesterday, will be held at his late home on the Swart Hollow road, about two miles from Oneonta on Saturday afternoon at half past one o'clock, and burial will be in the family plot in the [illegible] cemetery.

Mr. Fagan had been ill since November last of poliomyelitis, an inflammation of the grey matter of the spinal cord which in children is generally known as infantile paralysis, and which is less common in persons of advanced years. Following the attack Mr. Fagan apparently improved in health, but later he suffered a relapse and had been gradually failing for the past month.

The deceased was born in the town of Franklin March 2, 1855, and was a son of the late Bartholomew and Ann Fagan. With the exception of a short period in his younger life his home had always been within two miles of the place where he was born. He was by occupation a farmer and was a man of fine charater and clean habits and distinguished for his unquestioned honesty — qualities which made him many friends who will deeply sympathize with the family in its bereavement.

Mr. Fagan is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Hattie Reid, to whom he was married about forty years ago and by one nephew and three nieces. Two of the latter are Mrs. Ray Knapp of North Franklin and Mrs. Chester Westman of Guilford, both of whom from early life until marriage were members of his family, and for whom the affection he felt was that of a father.

In Oneonta also he was well known, and the esteem in which in his community he was held, was that of all within the circle of his acquaintance.

MARRIAGES.

Willard D. Tarbox and Miss Bernice E. Richards, both of this city, were married April 24 at 9 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, 25 Pine street, Rev. J. C. Russell officiating. RESPECTED LAURENS MAN

Eli D. Platt Dies Wednesday at Home Near Village—Funeral Saturday.

Laurens, Apr. 24. — Eli D. Platt, brief mention of whose demise appeared in The Star of yesterday, died 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at his late home. He was a son of the late Delos and Diantha (Rowland) Platt and was born in Davenport on April 10, 1859. His early life was spent in Milford. On September 12, 1889, he married Miss Alice McMinn of Laurens, and in 1892 Mr. and Mrs. Platt purchased the farm in this township which has since been their home. To bless their union four children were born—George M. Platt of Jersey City, N. J., Alton D. of Brooklyn and Levi M. of Castile and Leah, wife of Gilbert Morehouse of Mineola, L. I., all of whom with his wife survive him. Other surviving relatives are two brothers, Ira Platt of Milford, William Platt of Oneonta; and two sisters, Mrs. William Wells and Mrs. Sarah Jane Houghtaling, both of Laurens, besides many nephews and nieces. His death was the first in the family of five children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Delos Platt.

Although the immediate cause of the death of Mr. Platt was pneumonia, of which he was ill only a few days, he had been in failing health for more than a year.

The deceased was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Laurens and a member of the official board. He was a loving husband and devoted father, a kind neighbor and faithful friend, and general sympathy will be extended to the wife and children in their bereavement.

The funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the house. His pastor, Rev. M. B. Graves, will officiate, and interment will be in the Laurens cemetery.

Back to the Home Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sherman and members of their company arrived in Oneonta Thursday and will spend the balance of the week at their recently acquired home at 4 Luther street. The Shermans closed Wednesday night at Proctor's theatre in Schenectady, but not for the season, as they go to Albany for an engagement at Proctor's in that city. The winter has been a busy and profitable one for Dan and his company, who have found abundance of engagements in this state and in New England.

Automatic Train Control Would Make Collisions Impossible, Says Speaker at Safety Conference.

Chicago, April 24.—Railroad collisions in the United States will be made an impossibility in future years by automatic train control, declared James R. Howard, chairman of the National Transportation Institute, at a safety conference here.

"A recent big railroad disaster in the east cost 31 lives and injured 43 persons," said Mr. Howard. "The railroad paid nearly $500,000 in death and injury claims. The property damage was nearly $200,000. Another railroad system paid more than $950,000 in death and injury claims as a result of four collisions in which the property damage ran close to $400,000. Even if no one is killed, property damage in collisions may run into imposing figures with locomotives now costing from $50,000 to $75,000, Pullman cars $30,000 and up, day coaches $18,000 to $20,000, and ordinary freight cars $3,000 and possibly carrying $20,000 worth of freight.

"Automatic train control would have saved the railroads of the United States more than $40,000,000 in property damage alone in the past 15 years. There are a number of different automatic control systems in use both in the United States and Europe. The Interstate Commerce commission has ordered automatic control installed on 5,000 miles of road before January 1, 1925. This will cost more than $2,000,000. Protection of more than 400,000 miles of track operated in the United States will cost hundreds of millions. How to raise this money for non-income producing betterments is a hard problem in railway finance now.

"Electric devices and ramps, which are like third rails and which rise beside the track and automatically set the air brakes, are characteristic methods being tried now. The ramps arise as the semaphore drops to signal a train in the block ahead. The electric devices are connected both with the air brakes and with lights in the engine cab. In some systems an electric bulb in front of the engineer signals the track is clear two blocks ahead and that maximum speed is permissible. A second bulb signals a train in the second block ahead and cuts speed to 30 miles an hour. Bulb '3' signals a train or open switch in the block ahead and sets the brakes if the engineer does not do so instantly."

WOMAN MAY BE TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF CONVENTION

New York, Apr. 24.. — The choice of a woman for temporary presiding officer and keynote spokesman for the national Democratic convention here in June was reliably reported yesterday to have been taken under consideration by the sub-committee on convention arrangement.

Should the sub-committee, when it meets here about May 20 to make known its choice, name a woman for the post, it would mark a precedent in the history of major party politics in America.

Members of the sub-committee declined formally to discuss the report, as did Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee. It was not de- [illegible] sub-committee's postponement of the election of a temporary convention chairman, and in the presence of the rivalry that has sprung up with the seven men already prominently mentioned for the post, the suggestion that a woman be chosen has been made and received with cordiality.

ROBBERS ROB BLIND MAN OF MONEY AFTER ATTACK

New York, Apr. 24. — A blind man was one of the victims of three gunmen who held up six men engaged in a dice game in an office building in the heart of the Broadway theatrical district early last night and escaped with money and jewelry totaling $10,000 in value.

Isadore Koppel, a blind song writer, entered the room as the holdup was in progress. Unable to see the situation, and confused by the bandits' commands, he did not raise his hands when ordered, and one of the robbers knocked him unconscious with a blow of his pistol butt. He, too, was robbed of the few dollars he had in his clothes.

NEW EVENING PAPER

New York, Apr. 24. — The New York Examiner, a new afternoon newspaper, soon will be published in this city, has been announced by Frank P. Walsh, attorney representing the new publication. Certificate of incorporation of the publishing company was filed in Delaware by Mr. Walsh today.

Frederick W. Enwright of Lynn, Mass., is named president and treasurer of the company. Mr. Enwright is president and treasurer of the Lynn Telegram-News and the Boston Telegram. The capitalization was announced as $3,000,000. No date has been set for the publication's first appearance.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RETIRED

Gloucester, Mass., Apr. 24. — The entire fire company of the Annisquam section of this city has been retired on account of old age, it became known yesterday. Some members of the company had been in service more than half a century. The senior hoseman took up his duties five years after the Civil war and the superior officers had a period of service correspondingly long.

OKLAHOMA FOR COOLIDGE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Apr. 24.—With but one ripple of dissatisfaction the Republican state convention here yesterday, with machine-like precision, instructed the Oklahoma delegation to the national convention to cast their 25 votes for President Coolidge as party nominee and approved the state organization ticket endorsed by United States Senator Harreld.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lancing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate soured on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Krumbled Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely,

Frank Lancing,
1006 [illegible] Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary brans, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

in attendance at the funeral besides those noted above were Mrs. Ethel Warner and son, Frank, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Frederick and son of Oneonta. Rev. G. G. Summerson of this place officiated at the burial service here.

Mr. Packer made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cronkhite for several years. After the death of Mrs. Cronkhite, who was his only surviving sister, he went to Schuylerville, where he was employed for some time. He lived at Slingerlands during the year 1922, his home being then with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Packer. When not steadily employed his time was spent at the homes of his brothers in Schuylerville and Albany, where he will be greatly missed.

E. S. Packer and niece, Mrs. Carhart, returned to their homes Wednesday night. Osborne Packer will remain for a few days with friends before returning to his home at Schuylerville.

Pageant in Portlandville.

On Sunday evening next at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church of Portlandville, the young people of Milford will present the pageant entitled "He is Risen," which was given so cordial a reception by the joint congregations of Milford churches in the Easter service last Sunday night. The events portrayed are those which preceded and followed the resurrection of Christ. Seventeen young people in appropriate costumes personified the Biblical characters in that absorbing drama of death and life.

Following the pageant, which is interspersed with musical selections, a pantomime will be given illustrating the hymn-classic, "O Zion Haste." Seven white robed girls, to the accompaniment of a soloist, make vivid the message of the hymn while colored lights from the stereopticon play upon the group.

The general public is invited Sunday evening to the Portlandville church. An offering will be taken to defray expenses.

All the musical selections were in keeping with the spirit of Easter and the choir sang a beautiful anthem, "Christ, the Lord, is Risen Today." Among the array of flowers were blossoming potted plants and cut flowers, including a large bouquet of Easter lilies, telegraphed from Kingston by Miss Anna Henderson of New York, a former member, and still a devoted friend of the North Kortright church.

Medical Writer Tells How to Keep Well

Health, Strength, Vigor and Vitality Are Nature's Greatest Blessings. Do You Want Them?

MEMORIZE THIS GOOD ADVICE THEN TELL IT TO A FRIEND.

Nowadays most everyone realizes that good health is their greatest asset—the greatest of all treasures—and how to win it and hold it has been a constant study since the time of early man.

There are many symptoms, but outside of organic or contagious diseases, probably 90 per cent of our common ailments can be traced to one of two places—the liver or bowels or both. If you suffer from indigestion, headaches, dizzy spells, nausea or spots before the eyes; if you feel weak, tired, nervous, irritable and generally out of sorts—it's a pretty good sign that your system is clogged with waste matter that is slowly poisoning the blood. And as a result, chronic constipation, biliousness, rheumatism and very often kidney or bladder trouble may be finally expected.

A simple, safe and easy way to avoid or overcome the majority of these common, but distressing, symptoms is to keep watch of your liver and bowels — keep them active and regular and in most cases ill health of this kind will pass by your door.

In conditions of this kind, a medical preparation of a purely vegetable nature, such as the Favorite Remedy of Dr. David Kennedy, should be of remarkable value. This particular preparation is made from the personal formula of Dr. David Kennedy and has been very successfully used for more than 50 years. Practically all good drug stores carry it, and while it only costs a trifle, even this will be cheerfully refunded if the purchaser is not more than satisfied with its use. Advt.

New York, Apr. 24. — Resumption of bear selling, based on the publication of the March report of the Southern Pacific railroad showing a loss of over $1,000,000 in net earnings, checked the upward movement of prices in today's stock market. Closing prices presented an irregular appearance, most of the industrials closing higher while losses predominated in the railroad group.

Short covering, which provided the main impetus for the early advance, was inspired, in part, by the widespread publicity given to the record breaking short interest and the passage of the soldier bonus bill without the cash payment feature.

Southern Pacific dropped from 90⅝ to 88⅞, closing slightly above that figure for a net loss of one and five-eighths. Analysis of the March statement revealed that gross revenues of $22,505,532 were the second highest in the company's history and only $416,556 under a year ago, the sharp decrease in net income being due to heavier maintenance and equipment charges. Shares of northwestern roads yielded in sympathy, losses of a point or more being registered by Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, and Great Northern preferred.

Sugar stocks also showed pronounced strength in the early trading but eased off later in sympathy with the decline in commodity prices. Some of the strong spots in the specialty list were United States Cast Iron Pipe, United States Industrial Alcohol, Beechnut Packing, National Supply, Savage Arms, and United Fruit, all up one to three and one-half points.

Steel shares held relatively firm on reports of active buying of railroad and building construction material. Maxwell Motors A and Pierce Arrow preferred led the recovery in motor shares.

In the railroad group, the heavi- [illegible] strength of Pere Marquette, which touched a new high for the year at 46½.

Diversion of surplus funds into investment channels, on the reduction in the call money rate to three and one-half per cent, stimulated buying of all classes of bonds today and brought about substantial improvement in prices.

United States government obligations, always the first to profit by an ease in money rates, were aided further today by the passage of the bonus bill without the cash optional feature. Belief that the form of the measure removed the danger of unlimited governmental bond issues gave impetus to the buying movement. Four descriptions established new high levels for the year, with gains in the list ranging from one to 12-32 of a point.

Early offering of the Big Four $20,000,000 refunding issues is expected to follow authorizations by the Interstate Commerce commission of a change in the interest rate from five and one-half to five per cent.

WARNS LEAGUE MEMBERS

George M. More of Cooperstown Sees Warning Sign, Important to Members of Co-operative Association.

The Star carries the following letter written by George M. More of Cooperstown, evidently meant for the readers of The Star, in which the author sound a warning to the members of the Dairymen's league.

The letter follows:

Editor The Star:

The strangest element floating about through the dairying sections today is the thought "Milk producers get-together.' Get-together is a beautiful word and one on which the Dairymen's League association founded its present plan of handling and marketing milk. This word, however, when used as a camouflage, became synonomous with the word beware.

It seems that the elements which have been opposing the co-operative association for the past three years are the ones who are now crying get-together: Those who are squealing hardest are the roosters who have been crowing loudest during this same period.

I do not wish to criticize the non-pool element. I believe they fully realize their predicament and really want help. The latch-string of the League always hangs out, and 'the supply of our contracts is still holding out with dotted lines in the proper place.

In traveling along the public highway we [illegible] warning signs which read "Danger, sharp curve, drive slow.' The Dairymen's League has with tacks strewn at the most dangerous points. At any rate it behoves are approaching one now, possibly with tacks strewn at the most dangerous points. At any rate it behoves us to heed the warning. Let us be careful and watch our step.

COMPANY F OF WALTON

EXCELS IN MARKMANSHIP AND WINS COVETED WAR DEPARTMENT TROPHY

Colonel Walsh of Tenth Regiment With Regimental Band and General Weigel of Washington to Motor Through Oneonta to Walton Saturday—Party Halts Here for Lunch and Short Concert — Parade and Presentation of Trophy at Walton.

Company F, Tenth infantry, New York National guard, is to be honored on Saturday by the formal presentation of the war department trophy won on the rifle range last summer by that company for excellence in rifle practice. Its record was the highest among the 960 companies of state guard units and Walton is planning to make the occasion a memorable one in the history of Company F and of the village itself.

The presentation is to be made by Colonel Charles F. Walsh of the Tenth infantry, with headquarters in Albany. He will be accompanied by the entire regimental staff and the regimental band. General Weigel, of the Second Army corps, will also accompany him, representing the war department. Officials representing the governor of New York state will also be in the party. It is expected also that Congressman John D. Clarke will come from Washington to attend the presentation.

The regimental officers and accompanying officials will motor from Albany to Walton and are expected to arrive in Oneonta at about noon. They will have luncheon at the armory of Company G and it is expected that the regimental band will give a short concert, perhaps leaving the cars at Maple street and marching through the business section.

What route the visitors will take between Oneonta and Walton is not known here, though through Stamford, Hobart and Delhi is the one route that affords all improved highways and this quite likely will be followed.

Motorists who wish to visit Walton and witness the presentation will find arrangements have been made for the parking of cars and mounted police will co-operate with the local officers in directing traffic in Walton and in the parking of cars.

Company Made Record at Peekskill.

The range on which this New York company shot was at Peekskill during the encampment beginning August 25, 1923. The Walton company reported with a full personnel of officers and 92 enlisted men. At the range it scored 75 per cent, or five per cent more than the requisite number required by the War Department for qualification. Practically all of those wonderful marksmen are natives of Walton, many of them veterans from the overseas service in the great war where the Walton company, a portion of the Twenty-seventh division, which was hurled against the Hindenburg line, was nearly decimated in the closing days of September 1918.

Walton is the chief community of Delaware county, which is sixth in size and first in dairy products and one of the great lumber producers of the 65 counties of New York. Located on the headwaters of the Delaware [illegible] the country about Walton was long the favorite hunting ground of the Iroquois Indians. Brant, their famous war chief, traversed it again and again during the Revolutionary war. Following his tracks in October 1778 a small detachment of Morgan's Virginia riflemen, General Washington's favorite sharpshooters, visited the site of Walton. Later two of these [illegible] Leather Stockings [illegible] the region. They would seem to have sowed in the air seeds of unerring rifle accuracy. Then in 1785 Walton was founded by five officers of the Revolutionary war, the leader of these being Dr. Platt Townsend, Yale class of 1750, who was one of Washington's army surgeons, and all five of its founder families came from three Long Island towns, Dr. Townsend himself from Oyster Bay.

CONVENTIONS FOR CENTURY

First Presidential Nominating Meeting Held in New York by Federalist Party in 1812.

New York, Apr. 24. — New Yorkers who remember their history are recalling that the fist convention for the nomination of a presidential candidate was held in this city. It was convened by the old Federalist Party in 1812 and nominated De Witt Clinton, then Lieutenant-Governor of the state, to head the party ticket. Clinton received 89 electoral votes to 219 for James Madison.

Previous to this Federalist convention unpretentious forerunner of the great gathering of the Democratic party which takes place here next month, the methods of appraising presidential timber were comparatively simple. Indeed, until the election of 1800 there were no nominations.

In 1789 Washington was the choice of the electors provided by the machinery of the new constitution, and "the Father of his country" was again selected in 1792. After John Adams had served his term, however, party divisions began to be manifest, and in 1800 the first congressional caucuses for the selection of the chief executive and vice president were held, with the result that Jefferson became president after the House of Representatives had been called upon to break the tie between him and Aaron Burr. The congressional caucus method prevailed in 1804 and 1808, although thhere had as yet been no platform and no convention.

However, the Federalist convention of 1812 did not serve to commit the parties to that system of making nominations, and it was not until the election of 1832 that all the presidential candidates were named in this manner.

The Anti-Masonic party, first in the field, met at Baltimore in September, 1830, adjourning until September 26, 1831, on which date the delegates reassembled in the same city, nominating William Wirt of Virginia for the presidency.

Both the Whig and Democratic parties also held their conventions for the 1832 election at Baltimore, the former meeting on December 12, 1831, the latter on May 21, 1832, naming respectively Henry Clay and Andrew Jackson.

In those days Baltimore was most easily acessible of any city of the country, in fact it remained the favorite convention city until the development of the railways through what is now the Middle West.

GOOD LAND AS INVESTMENT

It Can No More Remain Always at Depth of Depression Than It Can at Boom Figures.

Ithaca, April 24.—During the present depressed state of agriculture, farmers need to remember that good land is always one of the soundest of investments and can no more remain at the depth of depression than it can at the height of boom prices.

This statement is made by Dr. G. F. Warren, agricultural economist of the state college of agriculture here. He points out, however, that there is no assurance at present that the bottom has been reached. He says: "The United States department of agriculture reports for the values of plow lands indicate that by 1916 farm lands in the United States were worth 21 per cent more than for the five-year average 1910-1914. The advance in the general price level was 30 per cent. Farm lands, therefore, were stationary in price when measured in terms of many commodities rather than in terms of one commodity (gold). From 1916 to 1918 farm lands advanced much more slowly than the general price level. When the secondary financial inflation occurred in 1919, the belief that prices would never fall became general, just as the belief has now become general that city houses will never again be cheap. In each case a land boom developed.

"Prices of plow lands in the United States rose from $58 per acre in 1916 to $68 in 1919 and to $99 in 1920. They declined to $64 in 1924, or are practically down to the 1916 level. The decline in 1923 was slight.

"In New York state the rise in land prices was much less. The average value of plow lands per acre was $52 in 1916, rose to $64 in 1920 and has now fallen to $54. For this reason the young men who started farming in New York after they returned from the war have lost less heavily than have those who bought farms in western states.

"On the face of it, the prices as reported indicate that farms are worth slightly more than in 1916, but when prices are rising it is easy to sell at the price level, while when prices are falling there are few buyers and anyone who must sell is very fortunate if he can obtain anywhere near the quoted level of prices. In most regions there are practically no buyers as the tenants and young hired men who furnish the usual market for farms are unable to buy. Most of the transfers that are made are transfers to creditors.

"Of course, farm land will again become salable in time. Good land is one of the soundest investments. It can no more remain at the depth of depression than it could remain at the height of the boom, but there is at present no assurance that the bottom has been reached. Prices of farm products must turn upwards or farm land will continue to decline."

HOBART CROSSING ACCIDENT

Ford Racer Occupied by Robert Cowan and Mother, Mrs. Susan Cowan of Hobart, Slightly Hit by Train.

Hobart, Apr. 24. — Mrs. Susan Cowan sustained a bad cut on her head and her son, Robert Cowan, was slightly cut and dazed late this afternoon when a Ford racer, driven by the latter was hit by the 5:31 U. & D. train at the Maple street crossing in this village. Dr. West of this village and Dr. Hubbell of Stamford attended the injured, and there is apparently no serious injury to either of the victims.

The train was just pulling out of the Hobart station at 5:31, and Mr. Cowan thought that he had plenty of time to beat the train to the crossing. However, when he saw that he did not, he was unable to stop and the car was hit by the engine and thrown sideways. Mrs. Cowan was thrown over the windshield of the car, while the son was rolled out.

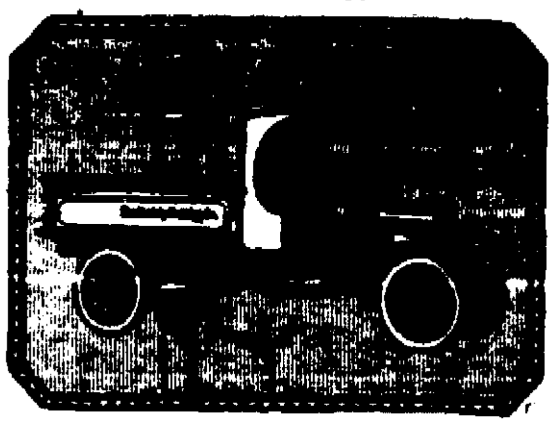
Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR



The Garden Farmer will find the Ford Model T One Ton Truck an especially valuable factor in his business because of the flexibility as well as the reliability of the service which can always be depended upon to be given by this splendid truck. The worm-drive of manganese bronze carries all the power of the motor to driving the truck and there are combined in larger and heavier form all the elements which have made the Ford Model T Car the greatest motor car in the world in point of service. The Ford Truck with its worm-drive is most economical in operation and maintenance. There is very little, if anything, to get out of order at any time: there is the simplicity in control: there is the convenience in the flexibility of the car, it will turn in a circle of forty-eight feet; it accommodates itself to narrow alleys, and it "stands the gaff" of hard work day after day, and month after month, to the great satisfaction of the owner. There is hardly a line of business activity where the Ford One Ton Truck is not really a necessity. On the farm, or in the factory, with the railroad, it is solving the economic delivery of merchandise and produce better than any other truck we know of. We will be glad to discuss the matter further with you, take your order, and see that you get delivery as promptly as possible.
